THE PEKING BANK ROBBERY.

Return of one of the Criminals From Exile. Tientsin correspondent of the North Tientsin correspondent of the North China Daily News says: Wu, who two or three years since was sentenced to banishment to the Hai Loong (Amoor) territory and hard labor on the roads for life for his part in the l'eking bank robbing, returned last week to this place with the Chinese equivalent for a "ticket-of-leave." He was only a dupe, and his sentence was too hard. His release is owing to the fact that he has high official friends, and evidence produced since his friends, and evidence produced since his trial to some extent exonerates him from guilty knowledge. But the bank shroffs and others tried at the same time, are and others tried at the same time, are still in the lonely, windy and tiger-haunted wastes of the Amoor valley. As they have no friends at court their ban-ishment will be perpetual.

Wu was a young man of talent. If he had not got into the dreadful mess—and he was more sinned against than sinning—he would now have been Tao-tai, with promotions to follow. But he exemplified the saying of St. Paul—who took it from Menander—that "evil communications corrupt good manners," he became involved with swindlers, was forced to be their tool, and so his life is wrecked.

The real culprits so far, have escaped, but may yet be brought to book, as Wu swears to be avenged, and, if he likes to make a clean breast, will do damage.

swears to be avenged, and, if he likes to make a clean breast, will do damage.
The check used for the fraud was for 60,000 taels. This document was offered to a gentleman in Shanghai, who was promised 10,000 taels if he would, as required by Chinese law, declare himself bonafide owner. The gentleman scorned the offer and said: "The affair is so rascally that I could not think of charging under 20,000 taels." under 20,000 taels."

Pleurisy Cured.

KINGSTON, Ontario, Dec. 7, 1885. Six years ago I caught a severe cold standing in an ice house with my coat off.

I felt myself getting chilly and went to the house, where I shook for half an hour and then had high fever and terrible pain in my side and through my lungs. I put an ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER on my back and one on the front of my chest and in a short time the pain decreased and I fell asleep, and did not wake until the next morning, when I was again quite as well as ever. In telling my doctor about it, he said I had been attacked with pleurisy, and, possibly, pneumonia.
